The Importation of American Cattle Into France.

On Account of Alleged Fever and Pleuro-Pneumonia in Texas.

High Chinese Officials Report All Huns' Fences Mission: Texas' Huns Full Power to Close the Negotiations Without Referring to Peking.

Peking, Feb. 25.—At the cabinet meeting Sunday M. Gaudard, minister of agriculture, made an order in council forbidding the importation of American cattle into France, on account of the Texas fever and pleuro-pneumonia with which they are alleged to be infected. This order is undoubtedly the outcome of the persistent protectionist agitation in the rural districts in the north of France. Ever since the new cabinet entered office M. Gaudard has been besieged by Agrarian deputations and petitioners.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The Central News correspondent in Peking says: "High officials here express the hope that Li Hung Chang's appointment to peace envoy will be acceptable to Japan. He will have full power to close the negotiations without referring matters to Peking. The time and place of the negotiations have not been determined."

The Central News correspondent in Tokio says the general ports from the West. Hai-Wei mention eleven foreigners who were captured with the island forts last surrendered by the Chinese. Ten of them were to take no further part in the present war, and were set free. George Howie, the American, came east on a scheme to blow up Japanese vessels with submarine infernal machines, has been detained aboard the Japanese flagship pending the decision of his fate. The Japanese made a reservation as to Howie in the articles of capitulation. They are inclined to treat him severely, as he was let go on parole after his arrest aboard the steamer Sydney, yet he lost no time in breaching his word and placing services at the disposal of the Chinese.

The Japanese marines who were killed in the early torpedo attacks on the Chinese fleet at Wollai-Wai were buried with military honors. The Japanese report speaks highly of Adm. Ting and the orders which he wrote, just before his suicide, to direct the course of his officers in completing the arrangements for the surrender.

The Central News correspondent in Hai-Cheng telegraphs, under date of February 21, that Lieut. Gen. Katsura reported that the Chinese force which had formerly held the city of Katsura, treated to New-Chung. The Chinese forces at Lukington and Saitau were about five thousand strong, and had twelve guns. Li Kung, the Chinese general, had some four thousand. The garrisons of New-Chung and Ying-kow seemed to have been decreased.

Accident by Shooting.

THREE HATTS, Feb. 25.—A. H. Walker, secretary of the Hindustani Milling Co., committed suicide Sunday morning by shooting himself through the heart. Just before he fired he fired three shots at Mrs. Walker, neither of which struck her. He had two pistols, and used both. He shot at Mrs. Walker and one to kill himself. He had not dressed for the day when he did the shooting. He has been ill for several days, and was taking medicine for pains in his head. He leaves three children. Mrs. Walker is a daughter of the late Theodore Shaw, the founder of the Hindustani Milling Co., which has mills in several places in the west.

Accident by Shooting.

HADAM, Ct., Feb. 25.—The people on a hill to church Sunday morning, about a mile back of the village of Hadam, that it was a very bad accident. The people were surprised to see that Thomas Cavanaugh's house was a mass of ruins, with only here and there a bit of smoke arising from a dying ember. A search of the ruins was begun. The searchers soon came upon a man's body, badly burned and barely recognizable. It was found a few feet from the ruins, and was identified as that of a man who had been 60 years old, was asleep at the time the fire started, and was burned in his bed.

Death of Gen. Carr.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Maj. Gen. Joseph B. Carr, of this city, died at his home on Fifth avenue at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, after a long illness of long standing, though he was confined to his bed only about six weeks. Cause of the jaw and throat was the cause of death. Gen. Carr has figured largely in republican state politics for many years. Three times he has been elected secretary of the state, and once was the party's choice for lieutenant governor. There will be a general funeral Wednesday afternoon, under the direction of the Third regiment staff.

Accidentally Killed His Mother.

SUNSHINE, Ind., Feb. 25.—In Goshen township, Morgan county, Sunday afternoon, a young man, 17-year-old son, Saturday, while seated at a sewing machine, her son accidentally dropped the needle, which he caught in his hand, which he accidentally dropped, when it was discharged, the contents striking the head of his mother, inflicting wounds which will prove fatal. The son is almost distracted by the sad accident and it is feared he will lose his mind or do himself bodily injury.

Snailgrip Quarantine.

MALVERN, Ark., Feb. 25.—On account of numerous cases of snailgrip reported in Hot Springs, the board of health here instituted strict quarantine measures that city snailgrip might not be introduced into Malvern.

TRAPPED.

Twenty Coalminers in a Burning Mine—Two Dead and the Others Almost Suffocated.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 25.—A fire occurred in rock shaft of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co. mines at Pratt City, Sunday morning, that resulted in the death of John Patton and Louis Stevens, two miners, and more or less serious injury to eighteen others. Twenty miners, all coalminers, were in the rock shaft, near the air shaft, when they detected the smell of smoke, and shortly afterward an immense volume of smoke began to pour from the engine room, which was between the air shaft and the cage leading out of the mine. The engine usually contains no fire, but is used to pump compressed air into the mines, hence the origin of the fire, which started in the engine room, is a mystery.

Driven by the smoke, the twenty men hurried to the air shaft, and there huddled together to keep from suffocating. Meanwhile the smoke became thicker, as the fire issuing from the engine room spread to the shaft. The men also felt the smoke and tried to escape, and tore about, kicking one another to death and making hideous noises with their cries. John Patton and Louis Stevens finally left the crowd at the air shaft and with the advice and consent of the president of the United States on the invitation of the government of Germany or Great Britain, or any of the governments of Europe, shall determine that the government of the United States shall be represented at any international or other conference to be held with a view to secure internationally and to fix the relative value between gold and silver as money, by means of a common ratio between those metals, with free coinage at such ratio. The president is authorized to require the attendance of nine commissioners, to be appointed as follows: Three by the president, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; three members of the house of representatives, and three senators of the next congress, and appropriating $100,000 for the pay and expenses of the commissioners, and for the share of the United States in the expenses of the conference.

It was with much hesitation, Mr. Wolcott said, and after consultation with the others that the president was offered.

The chief embarrassment had arisen from the fact that it might have been construed as an indication of an undue desire on the part of the United States that other countries should enter into some agreement for international bimetallicism. But, however, as nine months had to elapse between the adjournment of this congress and the meeting of the next, and announced as the president of the United States should be called upon to act with other nations in some conference long to international agreement regarding gold and silver, "would be powerless to act, except by the appointment of commissioners, and would be unable to clothe them with proper authority or to have funds for the representation of the United States or for the share of the expenses of the conference, it seemed wise to offer the amendment now."

The proposition, Mr. Wolcott thought, would be satisfactory to the metallists who voted for bimetallicism, and it should be equally satisfactory to those bimetallicists who professed objection to bimetallicism, but voted against it. (Laughter.)

The president would naturally, Mr. Wolcott said, for the three commissioners whom he would appoint men outside of public life. The two houses would select men best fitted to act in the matter.

Explorations in Asia.

Geographical Information of Value in the Exploration of the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 25.—Advices from Shanghai, by steamer, give some interesting details about the expedition of the French explorer, DuRoi de Phins, near L'Havre, last June, furnished by his companion, M. Grenard, and in three hours the fire was out and the 18 men at the air shaft were brought up in a more or less serious condition. The men were suffocated or killed by one another's kicks. News as to the condition of the rescued convicts is that they will recover.

WALCOTT'S IDEA

Nine Men Wanted as a Monetary Commission.

An Important Amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill.

The Commission to Be Named by the President on Invitation of Foreign Governments—The President's Authority to Appoint a Conference to Be Called.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In the senate, immediately after the passage of Friday's journal, Mr. Wolcott (rep. Cal.) gave notice of an amendment of the sundry civil appropriation bill providing that whenever the president of the United States on the invitation of the government of Germany or Great Britain, or any of the governments of Europe, shall determine that the government of the United States shall be represented at any international or other conference to be held with a view to secure internationally and to fix the relative value between gold and silver as money, by means of a common ratio between those metals, with free coinage at such ratio. The president is authorized to require the attendance of nine commissioners, to be appointed as follows: Three by the president, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; three members of the house of representatives, and three senators of the next congress, and appropriating $100,000 for the pay and expenses of the commissioners, and for the share of the United States in the expenses of the conference.

Kentucky's New Appellate Judges.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 25.—The vacancy on the appellate bench was filled Saturday morning, when George H. Eastin was sworn in as chief justice. The fourth appellate district, and the new court heard an argument for the first time as organized, with seven justices as the constitution provides. A large number of lawyers and many state officers were present. Chief Justice Eastin presented the case of Maj. Eastin, to the clerk, immediately after Sergeant Hill called the court to order, and requested the new judge to take the oath of office, which was administered by Deputy Clerk George. Judge Eastin took the seat on the west side of the bench.

The Faculty Memorial.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The Daily News says editorially Saturday: "Yesterday's speeches will undoubtedly bring money enough to purchase and maintain a cable house. It will be a memorial, not only to Carlyle, but to Mazzini, Tennyson, Thackeray, Dickens, Emerson, Ruskin, Trollope and a host of Carlyle's contemporaries. What the house has been and may be in the way of inspiring to other noble spectacles of the marquis of Ripon and Ambassador Layard will indicate."

National Butte and Cheese Men.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 25.—A number of delegates have arrived here to attend the sessions of the annual convention of the National Butte and Cheese Men's Association of America, which will begin Monday. Letters already received by Secretary Burridge indicate that the attendance will exceed that of any former convention, and that those who have arrived are President Allen, Secretary Burridge and other officers of the association. The session will continue until Thursday of next week.

Female College Banned.

PRINCETON, Pa., Feb. 25.—The Board of Female colleges, located at Haver, Pa., was destroyed by fire at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. The students all escaped safely, and no one was hurt or slightly injured. At 9 o'clock the building was a complete wreck. The value of the property destroyed has not been ascertained. The insurance is $70,000.

A Bishop Among Thieves.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Hishop E. H. Hulse, of the diocese of New York, was the victim of a burglary, and by their work is valued three robes valued at $100 and jewelry worth $200. The thieves carried off the bishop's valise, while he was passing a ticket at the railway station, and fled with the loot.
